

China Bank Payment Business Statistics, 2009

During Q1-Q3 2009, payment system kept running in a steady and efficient way. According to the figures on payment business, the social and economic activities were even more brisk and the funding transactions were further expanding. These all contributed to the soaring volume of payment business, creating an all-time high in terms of payment value. The active operation of payment system directly reflected development trend in China including strengthened economy recovery momentum, hefty growth in investment, expanded consumption demand and squeezing foreign trade. Therefore, the payment information is playing a more and more important role to measure the operation situation of national economy operation.

In 2009Q3, China's economy sustained growth gradually. Moreover, the social capita dealings further scaled up and the total capital handled in payment system increased rapidly year on year with a new high business value.
